

Media Contact: Steve Turner, Solomon/Turner
Phone: 314-205-0800

John Bircher Joins Winning Technologies In Las Vegas

ST. LOUIS, MO – August 2, 2004 – Winning Technologies, a nationwide information technology consulting firm with headquarters in O’Fallon (St. Louis) MO., announced the appointment of John Bircher to the position of Systems Engineer in the Las Vegas office.

“We are excited to have someone of Bircher’s experience and expertise join our staff,” said Scott Lewis, president of Winning Technologies. “John will help us greatly as we enhance our service offerings to our current and future clients in the Las Vegas area.”

Bircher has many years of experience working with companies from a variety of industries. He can be contacted at 702-943-8908.

Winning Technologies employs professionals who are experts in Information Technology. Serving the construction, healthcare, hospitality and other industries, they are skilled at identifying opportunities to maximize internal capabilities while enhancing a company’s bottom line. They help guide companies to the cutting edge technology solutions that best meet their business objectives. Their solutions help organizations maximize return on investment, streamline work processes and improve profitability.

For additional information visit Winning Technologies online, www.winningtech.com or call 1-877-379-8279.